IRELAND FREE STATE UNDER A NEW TREATY

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The centuries old quarrel between England and Ireland was ended, as had been fervently hoped, in the small hours of Tuesday morning by the signature in the prime minister's cabinet room of "a treaty between Great Britain and Ireland" consisting of eighteen articles giving Ireland the title of the Irish Free State and the same constitutional status as Canada, Australia and other overseas dominions.

The question of allegiance which up to the last moment threatened to wreck the negotiations was surmounted by permitting the members of the Irish Parliament to swear allegiance to the constitution of the Irish Free State and "be faithful to his Majesty the King."

The treaty has yet to run the gantlet of the Ulster government and of the Imperial parliament. The Imperial Parliament has been summoned to meet on December 14 and will be opened in state by the King, who has taken the closest personal interest in the Irish negotiations since he opened the Ulster Parliament.

Approval Is Assured

Approval by the Imperial Parliament is a foregone conclusion as the government has an overwhelming majority in the House of Commons favoring its Irish policy, and the action of the British representatives in reaching the agreement has already been unanimously indorsed by the Cabinet. The position of Ulster is less certain. Evidence comes from Belfast tonight that the treaty will be subjected to the most searching examination before receiving assent and doubtless many modifications will be proposed.

The King hastened to send the prime minister a telegram congratulating him on the success of the negotiations and declaring "I am overjoyed to hear the splendid news." The King will come to London purposely tomorrow to preside over the privy council to approve the proclamation summoning Parliament, as the constitution requires a six days' notice by royal proclamation.

Fred Tinch of Mt. Meridian who was arrested Tuesday, by Deputy Sheriff Ham, pleaded not guilty to a charge of unlawful transporting and possessing liquor, when arraigned before Judge Hughes, Wednesday morning. Tinch was released upon giving bond for $400. His trial is set for December 15.

SAYS REFORMATORY SHOULD BE BUILT AT THE FARM

Mr. tax payer of the state of Indiana, are you going to sit with your hands folded and allow your representatives to vote a unnecessary tax upon you in the coming extra session of the legislature, called for December 14th.

Of course you are aware that this extra session is called for the purpose of repealing a law that was passed by our last Legislature viz: the removal of the reformatory from Jeffersonville to Putnamville, Indiana.

If you will recall a commission of three men were appointed by Gov. McCray to go to Putnamville, Ind., and locate a site for this institution, and map out the ground that it should occupy. For some reason, this commission was never able to agree, and as far as we, as taxpayers were concerned, have never been given any good reason why this site was not accepted and the institution constructed in accordance with the law.

In the coming extra session Dec. 14th the purpose is to repeal the law that is now in effect and enact another law that will enable the State to locate this institution at another point, within a radius of fifty miles of Indianapolis. In other words buy other ground and erect this institution from the ground up as we might say. This will cause an uncalled for expense. Further this will not be in keeping of the former law when it was passed for economy.

Let me give you a few facts. The State of Indiana now owns at Putnamville, Indiana, 2,200 acres of land on which the Indiana State Penal Farm is now located. On this farm now owned by the State there still remains plenty of room and fine building sites for the reformatory. The Farm is well watered by Deer Creek making the sewerage system ideal. Brick, building tile and lime is made on the farm. Abundance of good building stone is already being quarried. Cement is at the door of this institution. In fact everything is at hand to build an institution of this kind. The labor can be performed by inmates of the Penal Farm.

Grounds for this building, stone for foundation, brick for the walls, lime and sand combined with cheap labor, what else could be asked.

Let us ask our representatives and to combine these things with good common judgement and place this institution on the Indiana State Penal Farm at Putnamville, Indiana.

These are facts that can be backed up in every particular. See your representatives, ask them to save this state approximately two million of dollars, as this will be somewhere in the neighborhood of the extra expense. Do it now Dec. 14 is the day set to settle this matter. I appeal to you as a tax payer, do this. J. A. ABEL, Putnamville, Indiana.

FRYE SENTENCED TO PENAL FARM

Donald Frye, age 17 of Wabash, Indiana, who broke into the home of H. N. Stalnaker, near the Penal Farm, and stole property valued at $5, last Thursday, and also robbed Omer Nelson's garage at Reelsville of some auto accessories, was arraigned before Judge Hughes Wednesday morning.

Frye pleaded guilty to the charge of first degree burglary and was sentenced of six months on the penal farm. Because of his age and the intelligent manner in which he acted while in court, the Judge did not give him the usual sentence of ten to twenty years in the state prison.

ERROR IN TELEPHONE RATES IS CORRECTED

On November 29, 1921 the Public Service Commission of Indiana issued its order authorizing a certain schedule of rates for the Greencastle Telephone Company; wherein it provided a rate for business, individual line service of $3.00 gross and $2.95 net. The net rate of $2.95 is a stenographic error which should have been $2.75.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Kenneth J. Knauer, age 19 of Greencastle, and Bertha K. McGill, age 19 of Greencastle.

POPULAR GROVE

Hubert Morrison is better at this writing.

Miss Kate Bales aged 70 passed away December 1st at the home of her brother, James Bales.

Sanford Bales and family of Russell, Mrs. C. A. Weaver of Beech Grove and Everett Bales of Indianapolis were called here Friday by the death of their sister.

Hootman gave the invocation. Rev. Hootman performed the same service in the church at Hicksville, 35 years ago. While returning to his home in this city, Rev. Hootman visited his oldest daughter, Mrs. Claudia Tagmeier and family of Ft. Wayne and stopped off in Portland, Indiana where the home office of the Hawkins Mortgage Co., of which Rev. Hootman is the local agent.

TIME IS FLYING! CANDIDATES ARE OUT AFTER VOTES

The Whole Community is Astir with Excitement Over the Herald's Great "Everybody Wins" Campaign--Friends of Candidates are Lining Up for the Finish.

NOTICE TO CANDIDATES

On account of a complete re-check of all votes cast in the Herald Campaign, the corrected vote standing will not be published until Wednesday, instead of today.

All candidates should report regularly in order that the vote standing may be kept up to date.
*****

Time is flying.

Each day shortens the second period of the Herald "Everybody Wins" Campaign.

The candidates are bunched in the lead.

Who will win? That is the question which is being asked on every corner. Everyplace you go the same question is asked. Who is in the lead today? Who will win out?

It depends upon the activity of the candidates. Entirely so. They are all bunched. There is an opportunity now for any one of them to get a commanding lead with a few days of effort. Those who win must fight.

The Buick car on display in the Christie-Thomas Sales room window is creating a lot of comment. Isn't it a beauty? Gee, how I would like to have that for my Xmas present.

And someone is going to get it. As sure as Christmas eve comes and the votes are finally counted the Buick car will be in the possession of someone of the candidates.

Friends of the several active candidates are now beginning to line up solidly behind their choice. Let's make every minute count is their slogan.

Thousands of votes are being received at campaign headquarters each day. The bonus offer for new subscription clubs has spurred the candidates to renewed action.

TO WIN IS OBJECT
To win a luxurious $1,075.00 Buick touring car is the one object firmly fixed in the mind of every contestant. It will not be long, now, until one of these enthusiastic candidates will be riding around the streets in their fine new Buick—a Christmas gift from the Herald in return for their ability to hustle.

Many other valuable rewards will be forthcoming at the close of the race. Altogether a list of about $3,000.00 in prizes will be distributed.

Several large photoes, which were on display in the show case of Hilary Bailey's photograph studio were stolen on Tuesday evening. The display window was fastened with a padlock, and opened on a hinge, the robbers using a screw driver to take off the hinge. The photos were in large folders valued at about $3 each making a total loss of about $10. No clue has been discovered yet, but Mr. Bailey says that he will find out who committed the theft.

HARD BITING GILA MONSTER.

Why It Is Poisonous—The Creature's
Tenacity and Quickness.

Of some of the strange ways of the gila monster, that little known creature of the Southwestern deserts, a correspondent writes: "I have had some experiments with gila monsters and can state that no matter what scientists may claim the gila monster is a good thing to shoot. Indians and Mexicans have a horror of them and fear them more than a rattlesnake. I believe that the bite of the gila monster is dangerous because of the creature's habit of eating lizards, bugs and rodents and then lying on sand so hot that it blisters the hands and feet of men. The teeth are often covered with a fermented, putrefied froth from the food. A bite has the same effect as the cut of a dissection knife used on a cadaver; in other words, the inoculation of a deadly poison.

"When frightened or angry he can move quite rapidly. That short, thick stubby tail is used in jumping, just as a kangaroo uses its tail. The gila monster bites like a bulldog and has the tenacity of a snapping turtle. I once saw some men teasing a gila monster brought to Tucson. A string was tied around his neck. The gila monster was crawling around on the ground trying to get away, but was pulled back by the string. Suddenly he sprang up and bit a man among the crowd on the hand, keeping fully two feet from the ground.

"Another instance, this of a man whose chief object seems to have been a foolhardy display of fearlessness. He was holding one of the monsters in his hand by the back of its neck, so it could not bite him. He dropped his hand to the side of his leg. The gila monster shut his teeth down on his heavy duck overalls, taking a double piece out where the cloth folded, as quickly as a pair of scissors could have cut the fabric, and as cleanly.

Friday an Eventful Day.

Is Friday unlucky? Gladstone, Beaconsfield, Washington, Bismarck, Fahrenheit and Spurgeon were born on Friday. Henry VIII. gave Calot his commission which led to the discovery of North America. Columbus actually discovered this continent and the pilgrim fathers landed at Plymouth Rock on Friday. Once more: The first newspaper "ad" and the first newspaper printed by steam power (the London Times) appeared both on a Friday; while the stamp act was repealed in England on the same day of the week. With Charles Dickens Friday was an especial favorite.

Hats on in Parliament.

The old custom, honored by the use of centuries, whereby the members of the British Parliament were given to wearing their hats in the chamber during the legislative sessions, is apparently doomed to speedy extinction. In the House of Lords the practice of keeping the head covered is still rigidly adhered to, but in the Commons it is decidedly waning, much to the disgust of many of its conservative men, who think it a miserable breach of decorum for any member not to wear his hat during his attendance on the sittings.

History in a Nutshell.

Some time after the school system was adopted by the navy a Filipino was directed to write an essay on George Washington. This, however, was the first contribution, and was as follows:

"George Washington was sore because American persons was not free. He sailed for England on my ship and sat to king: 'I express declarations of Independence for American persons.' King, he say 'Nothin' doin' and Mr. Washington tell Admiral Dewie to shoot big guns at him. Bluey King, he say he will not run over American persons again. 'Let George do it,' he say, and today American persons she is free."—Great Lakes Bulletin.

absolutely free among the candidates who hustle the most. These next few days practically decide who these winners will be.

They are all looking forward to the finish. But it is the activity now that will tell greatest at the finish. That it is the time to hustle is being realized by both the candidates and their friends. The big chance to drive home a victory in the Herald Campaign is spurring them on to greater effort.

And while the candidates are busy the whole community is looking on, all excited and hopeful that their choice may be declared the winner.

STRAIGHTEN THAT BENT BACK

No need to suffer from that tired, dead ache in your back, that lameness, those distressing urinary disorders. Greencaſtle people have found how to get relief. Follow this Greencaſtle resident's example.

Mrs. H. Craven, 105 College Ave., says: "I would not think of being without Doan's Kidney Pills. They have been taken with such good results by myself and other members of the family that I gladly endorse them. Before I took Doan's I had severe backache and shooting pains in my side and dizzy spells when stooping. Doan's have cured me of these troubles and I know there is nothing better for kidney complaint. I certainly recommend them to anyone who may ever need a kidney medicine."

You don't have to coax big and little folks to eat Kellogg's Corn Flakes

Just as soon as you serve Kellogg's you'll note fussy and faded appetites getting mighty sharp; you'll find big bowls being handed back for "just a few more Kellogg's, mother—they're wonderful!"

And, that'll make you glad, for Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a great speed-start for the day's doings! They make for health and happy digestions! Kellogg's are never leathery or tough, but always joyously crisp!

Kellogg's—the original Corn Flakes—will be a revelation to your taste if you have been eating imitations! For your own enjoyment, do this:—compare the big, sunny-brown Kellogg's Corn Flakes with other "corn flakes." Eat some of Kellogg's—then try the imitations! You'll realize then why Kellogg's Corn Flakes are the largest and fastest selling cereal in the whole world!

Do more than ask for "corn flakes." Insist upon KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package! My, but it's worth while!

FIRING AN ENGINE WITH OIL.

An Entirely Different Job From Firing with Coal.

Firing a locomotive with oil is a very different matter from firing with coal. In Texas on account of the low cost of fuel oil many lines burn it in their engines.

"The oil is stored in tanks in the tender and enters the firebox below the door," writes a Texas fireman in the Locomotive Firemen's Magazine. "A small pipe called the atomizer connects with oil pipe just as it reaches the firebox, which sprays the oil evenly all over the firebox, which is lined with fire brick.

"The fireman has five valves to operate—the oil valve, to regulate the supply of oil; the atomizer, to spray it; the heater, which heats the oil in the tank; the superheater, which heats the pipes connecting tank with firebox, and the blower, which must be working a little when steam is shut off to create draught enough to keep oil burning.

"Firing an oil burner is a very particular job. The operation of the oil valve and the atomizer must correspond at all times with the amount of work an engine is doing; not enough fire starts an engine leaking and too much oil makes black smoke, gums up the flues and makes less steam.

"It is then up to the fireman to get down on the deck and fill up a funnel with sand to clean the flues. By putting the end of the funnel into a hole in the firebox door the sand is drawn through the flues and out of the stack.

"Firemen on helpers and yard engines prefer coal, as it requires less watching, but on a through freight, especially on the heavy hills, oil is all right. The engineer can drop her down a notch or so, just as quickly can the fireman give her a little more oil and the atomizer.

"The hardest work an oil burner fireman does is to take water. It is not a dirty job, but I have never seen a fireman wearing a white collar. It is all he can do to keep clean overalls. The pay was just the same as for the coal burners in that locality.

"In reference to hiring experienced firemen, some roads do and some do not, but I think they all prefer to make their own firemen, as they will stay through the slack times when a loouser will not.

FROGS USEFUL TO SCIENTISTS

Seemed Designed Expressly for Study of Biology.

Professor S. J. Holmes, of the Government Research Laboratories at Washington opines that most of what is known in certain departments of physiology is derived from a study of frog structure and function. Perhaps, says the Chicago Tribune, no animal except man has been the subject of so many scientific investigations. One seldom picks up a volume of physiology without finding the frog the theme of some generalizations.

The late Prof. Huxley said that frogs seem to have been designed as a foundation for biology. With the discovery that frogs, like human beings, are attacked by mosquitoes a whole line of new research has been recently opened, and parasite life has been much better understood since it has been known that frogs are hosts to a number of parasite forms. Not the least interesting of researches is based on the certainty that a frog may be thrown into the hypnotic state.

Suicide of Salmon.

In the Sea of Okhotsk the salmon are suicidal and one of the most startling examples of the spendthrift side of nature may be found in the rivers that run into this sea. When 6 years old the salmon begin a voyage of death. Ascending the river of their infancy they race in countless thousands upstream until lack of food and lack of elbow room kill them off. A recent traveler declares that, however many millions of salmon may run up the river, not one ever reaches the sea again alive. What becomes of the rivers of dead salmon? The seagulls wheel down upon the scene and feast upon their eyes, scornful anything less dainty. Bears, wolves, foxes and sledge dogs are made comfortable for the year.

Against Using Slang.

The teacher of a school near Providence, R. I., received the following interesting instructions from a certain fond mother. She had just moved into the village from the city and was most solicitous that the wellbred manners of her little daughter Muriel should not be contaminated by contact with the country children. "Always see that she has your best attention," said she, "and be very careful that she associates with no little child that uses slang, which Muriel has never heard. Above all, do not have her sit near that Williams boy. I knew his father in Providence and (confidentially) they're a punk lot, the whole push of them."

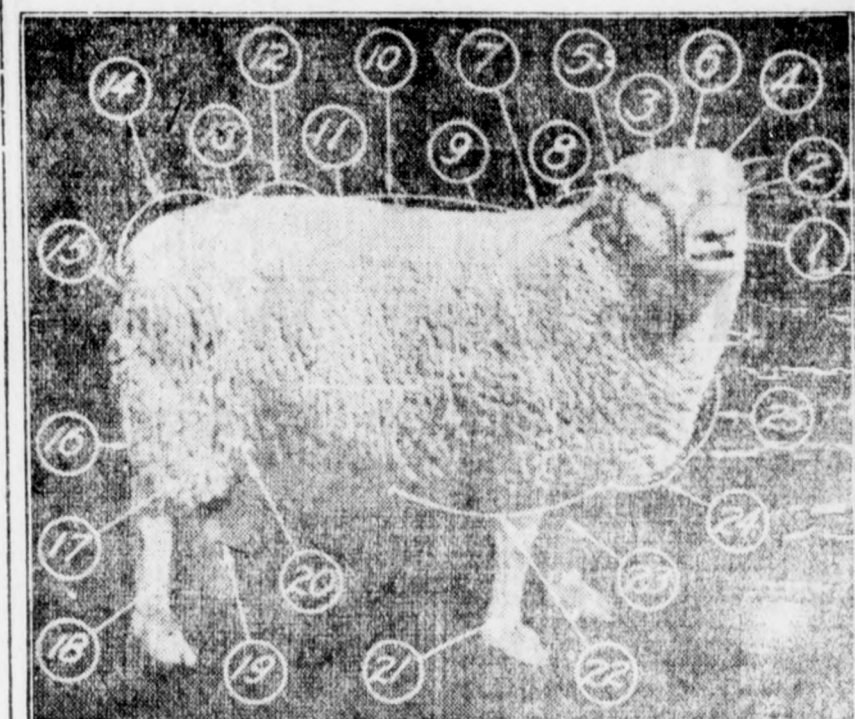

Wasps prey upon flies—a fact which is well known in Italy. On any summer or early autumn day in the Tuscan country parts when the luncheon table is blackened by flies one may see a wasp sail in at the open window, select a fly, roll it over, curl it up and carry it out into the sunshine and soon return for another.

Mechanism of Glaciers.

In tunnelling through glaciers during the Alpine operations of the war, opportunity was offered for observations of inner structure and movements. In shallow cuttings, characteristics only to be expected at much greater depths were found. The alternation of lighter and denser layers cannot here be caused by pressure, but must be a primary, sedimentary formation. Interior crevasses often ended in a plane of stratification, thus pointing to the importance of such planes in the glacier mechanism.

Dear Head of 50 Points.

What is said to be the largest head ever found on a red or cotton tail deer in the country has lately been received in Bangor from Hill Gould of Grand Lake Stream. The head has fifty points or prongs on the antlers. The head is very even, having twenty-six points on one side and twenty-four on the other and is a beauty in every way. It spreads 28 inches in the widest place and has broad webs on each antler, which spread 7 inches. The fifty points are all well defined prongs.—Kennebec Journal.

ORIGIN OF THE UNION JACK

Blending of the Three Crosses a Little Lesson in History.

The British union jack, the King's colors, combines three crosses—the cross of St. George, the cross of St. Andrew and the cross of St. Patrick—all on a blue field. The union of these three crosses occurred in an interesting fashion. Primarily England's flag displayed a red cross on a white ground. The white cross of St. Andrew made its appearance side by side with that of St. George during the reign of James I, the Scottish King, who ascended the throne of England. It was not until later, however, in 1707 that the two crosses were combined on the one banner and the white emblem of St. Andrew ran from corner to corner of the blue field and crossed the red emblem of St. George.

Nearly a century later the red diagonal cross of St. Patrick found a place on the same flag. It was after the Irish parliament was united to the British that this change took place.

In England it is stipulated that all colors, as flags are termed, shall be hand made. At first they were the work of women members of regimental families but later the privilege was given to contractors, who number less than half a dozen, it is said. If, however, the wives and daughters of officers want to make colors for their regiments they are permitted to do so, but as a rule these regimental colors are submitted to the garter king-at-arms for his approval before they are presented to the regiments for which they have been made.

EARTH'S CLOUD-BELT.

Can Be Traced From Africa and Across the American Isthmus.

A Washington scientist gives a vivid picture of the great belt of clouds some 300 miles in breadth, which surrounds the earth a little north of the equator.

Within this belt rain almost incessantly falls, sometimes in sheets, and the wind seldom stirs.

Before the invention of steamships vessels becalmed in the cloud belt sometimes drifted helpless for weeks. Even now the crossing of this belt, where everything is surcharged with moisture, is a disagreeable experience for voyagers going from the North to the South Atlantic Ocean, or vice versa.

The belt can be traced across equatorial Africa and across the American Isthmus, and the great rivers Amazon, Orinoco, Niger, Nile and Congo arise in these rain-soaked regions. They are like exhaustless reservoirs. The cause of this equatorial cloud-belt, is connected with the trade winds and in the course of a year it oscillates north and south over a distance equal to about three times its own breadth.

An Effective Partnership.

One of the most remarkable firms in the world is that of Ely Bowen and Charles Tripp, the former being minus legs, while the latter is armless. These two men have amassed a fortune in museums and with circuses, and have purchased a poultry farm from their earnings. The farm is located near Lincoln, Ill., where Bowen and Tripp raise poultry. Tripp and Bowen are bosom companions, and have been chums almost since childhood. Bowen was born minus legs, Tripp minus arms. Bowen has two feet protruding from his hips, which he uses with much effectiveness. Tripp has trained his feet to perform the duties of hands. He can roll a cigarette as well as any man. The favorite pastime of Bowen and Tripp is bicycling. Often they take long rides on their tandem, Tripp working the pedals and Bowen holding the handlebars.

Calendar of the Romans.

To the modern world a "calendar" is merely a harmless necessary reminder of weeks and days, to be hung up on New Year's Day and consulted in dating letters throughout the year. It has no such mournful sound as "calendarium" had for the ancient Romans. The original "calendar" of their times was the money lender's account book, so-called because interest was due from the debtor on the calendar, or first day of each month. Seneca speaks of "calendar" as a word invented outside the course of nature on account of human greed.

Yeggmen.

A "yegg" or "yeggman" might be defined as a cross between a tramp and a burglar. "Yeggmen" travel about the country always by stealing or begging rides on freight trains, and their operations are generally confined to banks or postoffices in the smaller towns. Eventually "yeggmen" are likely to come to grief through the loss of a leg or an arm, when they take to begging, and become known as "ex-yeggmen."

Who Got the Place?

A judgeship at Sacramento, Cal., was vacant. There were three candidates. Two of them, who believed their chances were equal, agreed to shake dice as to which should withdraw, and did so. The governor heard of it and appointed the third candidate to the place.

Too Well Remembered.

"Did your late uncle remember you when he made his will?"
"I guess so—for he left me a will."

The Time Is Short

Hustle is the key that will unlock the treasure chest that is so filled with fine Christmas presents, by far the most valuable and attractive ever offered by a newspaper in Putnam county in recognition of ambition and energy. Santa Claus will do himself proud this Christmas eve to folks of this section.

Never before has there been such a glittering array of gifts presented as in the Herald's great gift giving campaign. And never were there such battles waged to win them. Pre-sent indications point to a hair-breadth finish. And while it is certain that the winning votes will be high, it is also reasonably sure that the brand new Buick will be won by a narrow margin.

Count your votes—see what the other fellow is doing—then go out and hustle for more votes—always MORE VOTES. It would be better to win the prize you most desire by a million votes too many than to get left by a few thousand—to let this $1,075.00 Buick slip through your fingers because you lacked a few thousand votes.
